UNIVERSITY

STUDENT DISCIPLINE HANDBOOK

STUDENT RULES AND REGULATIONS

The student rules and regulations contained in this handbook are the product of serious and mature deliberation made by the Mapúa University using the Manual of Regulations for Private Higher Education as guidelines.

This handbook is the offshoot to the Commission on Higher Education's (CHED) issuance, pursuant to the pertinent provisions of the 1987 Constitution, Act No. 2706 as amended by Act No. 3075, Commonwealth Act No. 180, Batas Pambansa Bilang 232, Republic Act 7722 and other applicable legislations.

Policies stipulated in this Student Discipline Handbook have been adopted in the firm belief that they will promote the welfare of the student population.

The Student Discipline Handbook of Mapúa University supersedes all previously issued Student Discipline Handbooks. It applies to all current students of Mapúa regardless of year of entry to the University. This Handbook shall take effect starting S.Y. 2020-2021.

The Student Discipline Handbook is subject to periodic reviews and modifications as may be recommended by the Office of the Executive Vice-President for Academic Affairs (OEVPA) and approved by the Office of the President (OP).

RATIONALE

Education is a cooperative enterprise of both the teacher and the learner. It requires mutual and coordinated efforts from both parties for it to be effective. For Mapúa, to achieve its desired educational goals, the entire academic community needs to subscribe and adhere not only to the fundamental objectives of effective learning but also to the development of moral character expected of educated men and women.

As mandated under Article XIV, Sec. 3 (2) of the 1987 Philippine Constitution "All educational Institutions shall teach the rights and duties of the citizenship, strengthen ethical and spiritual values, and develop moral character and personal discipline, encourage critical and creative thinking, broaden scientific and technological knowledge, and promote vocational efficiency. Mapúa University, as a Higher Education Institution, with the primary goal of imparting knowledge to its students, strives to meet its implicit "built in" obligations by providing its students with an atmosphere conducive to learning and by formulating and implementing rules and regulations as provided by the law.

Section 102 (under Student Discipline) of the Manual of Regulations for Private Higher Education (MORPHE)), provides that every higher education institution shall maintain discipline inside its campus as well as within the immediate surroundings of the school premises. An institution shall also exercise disciplinary authority over students outside its campus and beyond school hours, term or year on the instances as follows:

1. where school policies or regulations are violated; and,
2. where the misconduct involves or affects a student's status, or the good name or reputation of the school.

A student enrolling in the University assumes an obligation to conduct himself in a proper and irreproachable manner as a bona fide member of the academic community and should not hamper the University from discharging its educational functions. He must accept the rules and regulations which the University prescribes for the members of the academic community to enable it to fulfill effectively its educational mission.

Therefore, all students and faculty members shall abide by and observe the rules and regulations herein set forth. They are urged to refrain from committing any offense which is inimical to the good of the students in particular and the whole academic community in general.

ON FRATERNITIES

COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

CHED Order
No. 4, 1995

PREVENTIVE MEASURES AGAINST VIOLENCE AND SANCTIONS ON FRATERNITIES AND OTHER STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

1. The fundamental law of the land requires the state through its instrumentalities, in particular the educational agencies, to promote the physical, intellectual and social wellbeing of the youth, the students. They are encouraged to go to schools of all levels to utilize their God-given talents for self-development and, collectively, for nation-building. They are encouraged further to join all kinds of organizations that foster camaraderie and instill brotherhood.

2. Historically, fraternities were founded to promote camaraderie among groups of people, including students in colleges and universities. Fraternities and other student-organizations must serve to forge not only brotherhood as the ultimate bonding of all men and women inside and outside the confines of universities, but must exist to preserve the value of human life. Their talents and energies must be channeled and utilized for collective development.

3. Recent events involving fraternities tend to erode the moral values inculcated by parents and the educational institution. Students' dedication to study, respect for authority, and observance of the rules and regulations of educational institutions are ignored.

Existing laws and other administrative issuances seem not enough to deter some students to inflict physical and mental injuries on others and, in so many instances, cause the loss of life of students.

4. In order to have an atmosphere of brotherhood among fraternities and other student organizations, all educational institutions or higher learning are encouraged to promote programs and projects that will produce responsible students and will instill the value of human life for a productive future. The following preventive measures are therefore suggested:

- 4.1. monthly meetings of heads of fraternities in a Council of Equals;
- 4.2. regular gatherings of fraternities members through sports, cultural events and joint community projects where there are cross membership;
- 4.3. reporting a potential conflict to the head of the fraternity as a standard procedure. The head in turn will patch it up with his counterpart;
- 4.4. internal policing by the fraternities themselves;
- 4.5. long-term re-orientation of role of fraternity to move away from macho conflicts into a society of brotherhood that stresses studies, productivity, creativity, and sense of community and nationhood;
- 4.6 more interaction between the School Administration and the fraternities;
- 4.7. informing parents about the participation of their children in fraternities;
- 4.8. use of the fraternity alumni members to counsel resident members;
- 4.9. oblige fraternities to observe ethical code in their organizational vision and objectives which should include a commitment to solve problems in a peaceful and friendly way.

4. In order to deter violence among fraternities the following sanctions shall be strictly carried out:

- 4.1 Automatic expulsion of any fraternity member for:
 - a. starting or taking the offensive action that clearly provokes violence;
 - b. carrying knives, sticks, pipes, guns, and other deadly weapons in schools; and c. extortion.
- 4.2 60 days suspension of all officers of a fraternity found guilty of acting that will provoke violence; and
- 4.3 Suspension of guilty fraternity for one year for the first offense and permanent ban for the next offense.

5. Higher Education institution must fully assume authority and responsibility in dealing with fraternities and other student aggregations. They are enjoined to closely monitor and supervise the enumerated preventive measures and sanctions herein above stated.

6. Immediate dissemination for this order is desired.

- ◁ Working in partnership with parents/guardians and the wider community to develop positive attitudes to gender issues.

Taking Active Measures to Investigate, Report and Act on Incidents of Gender Discrimination

All academic and non-academic personnel have the responsibility to promote gender equality and to report incidences of discrimination, which may arise in the University.

Breaches of the policy with regard to gender discrimination and harassment shall be dealt with in a manner appropriate to the level of the breach, and with the intention of bringing about the relevant changes. More serious breaches of this policy shall be dealt with in accordance with the University's anti-bullying and harassment procedures, and the disciplinary procedures for personnel.

In case issues based on sex and gender comes to the attention of the University, these will be dealt with according to our policies.

Roles and Responsibilities

Promoting gender equality is the responsibility of the whole school community, including support academic and non-academic personnel, students and parents/guardians. At the beginning of each academic school year, student orientation shall be conducted to highlight the duties implied by this policy in the same way as student protection, health and safety and behavior policies form part of the orientation process. New and temporary personnel of the University shall also be made aware of this policy.

At the beginning of the academic school year, all students will be reminded of their roles and responsibilities regarding equality. Parents/Guardians shall be made aware of their roles and responsibilities through the school brochures and newsletters.

Address an unsafe and violent situation while it is occurring so that you can stop it before it escalates. In addition, it is important to report cases of inappropriate, discriminatory, or abusive behavior regardless of whether an individual is directly involved. Although most people are bystanders in the case of violent incidents, rather than aggressors or victims, they do have a role to play. If someone knows that an incident might happen, is happening, or has happened, and that person does not try to stop the incident or report it, then that person is also guilty. The aggressor may interpret the bystander's silence as approval and support, and as a result, start or continue to carry out the aggressive behavior. In addition, since bystanders are not engaged in the conflict, they may be able to see a wider range of options for dealing with it. Educators, in particular, have a moral obligation to help create gender-safe learning institutions.

Dear Parents and Professors,

Allow us to express our utmost gratitude to you for your unconditional support. Through the years, you are with us always. For this, we are truly thankful.

The Office of the Prefect of Discipline cannot in anyway provide enough guidance and discipline to our children without the unwavering support of their parents and professors. But discipline is not learned in a day or two, not even in conferences and meetings, but is the product of many years of development. That is why the OPD is strongly encouraging all parents and professors to impose some kind of discipline routines at home/inside the classrooms and continuously support our programs that aim to develop and instill discipline to our students. We expect parents and professors to take the lead in disciplining their children/students, and the school through the OPD will provide support and follow-up. Parents and professors should take the center stage in developing a disciplined youth to cognizant of their role and responsibility to themselves and the society at large.

It is likewise important for parents to realize that in this age, social media is emerging and consumes most of the time of our children, so parents must spend more time and give more attention to their sons and daughters. When conflicts arise, there is no need to fight it out; by imposing appropriate disciplinary measures everything could be resolved diplomatically. A parent should always be able to negotiate with his child, and know when to offer a compromise or to remain steadfast, and at the end of the day reach an amicable settlement for every issue.

We, at the Office of the Prefect of Discipline, are here to support both parties. A Parent/Professor may reach out to us and discuss concerns regarding his child/student with the hope that the OPD could somehow create a bridge or open a line of communication to reach the other side. We urge our parents and professors to take proactive measures in disciplining and to consider the OPD as a valuable and trusted partner in providing a guidance and appropriate discipline to our children. Together let us aim to promote DISCIPLINE in accordance with the Mapúa University Core Values (Discipline, Excellence, Commitment, Integrity, and Relevance).

Give us a call or pay us a visit anytime during office hours to discuss your concerns and hear our perspective. In this way we would know what we can expect from one another. Of course, we will treat your visit with utmost confidentiality.

You may also visit the OPD website by clicking the link to learn more about us. <http://www.mapua.edu.ph/Offices/OPD/Default.aspx>

You may also call us at: Telephone nos. (02) 247-5000 locals 7103 (Intramuros) or 5814 (Makati) Once again, thank you very much dear parents and professors for your continued guidance and support.
